RE: COVID-19 Testing Sites – How to Refer

Testing sites for COVID-19 have been established across the province.

Patients are advised to use this self-assessment tool to determine if they should be tested for COVID-19. Those who fit the criteria and suspect they may have COVID-19 can obtain a referral to a community testing site by phoning:

1. HealthLine 811
2. Their family physician.

Testing sites are by referral only and not for walk-in testing.

To refer a patient, fax (or call) your local testing site with the individual's name, date of birth, phone number and requesting physician's name. Patients will be contacted to book an appointment and informed of the location of their local testing site.
