

Wear Orange on

Friday, Sept 30, 2022

The National Day of Reconciliation also known as Orange shirt day was established by grass roots First Nation, Métis and Inuit communities to bring awareness of the inter-generational impacts of residential schools and the importance of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada (TRC).

The story of the orange shirt originates from Phyllis Webstangs testimony about her residential school lived experience. The orange shirt is a symbol that honours all the children, families who survived or did not make it home from residential schools. To view full story please visit <https://www.orangeshirtday.org/about-us.html>

To show your support please wear orange or purchase an orange shirt, preferably from any Indigenous vendor. Most proceeds go to local support groups. Please see below for vendor contact information.
