Dr. Yatsina:

The Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Saskatchewan is disappointed in your unprofessional conduct. You practice with an undertaking which the Council takes seriously. By breaching the undertaking, you bring disrespect to the profession, but more importantly harm to the public.

The undertaking was put into effect so that you were able to efficiently respond to third party requests on behalf of your patients. The College also had expectations that you would respond to inquiries in a timely manner. You have failed to follow the undertaking and respond to the College in a timely manner.

Council is well aware of the challenges that you are facing in your personal and professional life and we have significant empathy regarding your struggles. We hope that you use the time when you are unable to practice medicine to get the help that you need.

Please learn going forward that an undertaking is not to be taken lightly and that it is there to ensure public protection. Any further breaches may result in greater penalty. Timely communication with the College and adherence to the undertaking will hopefully keep you from facing us again.

The Council of the College of Physicians & Surgeons of Saskatchewan.
